9600 Series Field Cultivator

Expect a perfect seedbed season-after-season.

The 9600 features narrow transport widths and outstanding out of ground clearance.

Time is more important in farming today than it's ever been, and it plays a major role in how good the crop yield will be. The 9600 Field Cultivator will help producers meet their time line during the crucial spring and fall planting seasons. Outstanding quality is designed and manufactured into every part and this keeps it performing without costly delays season-afterseason. Available in eight working widths from 20' to 50', the 9600 Field Cultivator will increase your return on investment by creating the perfect seedbed and eliminating costly downtime. And it's only available from Landoll ... The Company Who Knows You Best.
